Meanwhile the contest was going bravely on and the Norsemen were handing in the hemp an inch at a time. In half an hour they had a couple of feet or so to their credit, and then the Scots made a stand. For awhile they not only held their own, but rained a Scots made a stand. For awhile they not only held their own, but gained a little and the house resounded with the cheers of their friends. The enthusism of the Scots was short lived, however, as the Norwegians commenced their mightly heaves again, and the ribbon resumed its journey towards their goal. The Scots resisted steadily to the close, but after an hour and three quarters of hard work the Norwegians won. STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

The standing of the teams is as follows:

Three.

The only strong team the Norwegians would have to meet is the Swedes, and it is stated that the latter will not come up, so the Norwegians are practically the winners of the tournament. The Americans and Swedes have each won twice and lost once, while the Scots have won three times and lost once. When the two former teams have another pull each, there will probably be atteal around for second and third places. The concluding contests will be disces. The concluding countries outled this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Al Ecklund has challenged Captain Lange for a match between the Americans and ten picked Scandinavians for $550 a side, the contest to come off to-morrow night. The challenge has been accepted. The Norwegians were jubilant last night. The Chinamen have evidently got the fever, judging from the following letter, which arrived at The Herald office has slight.

There was a little breeze in real estate sircles yesterday over the merits of the abstract as against the title insurance sysem recently commenced in this city by the and while no blows were struck an excitand while no blows were struck an excit-ing experience meeting was held. The sub-ject was pretty thoroughly discussed, and from all parts of the territory. so far as the facts brought out by the discussion have weight, they were all in favor of the title insurance system. It was quite interesting to learn how important sales upon which thousands of dollars depended failed because of breakers which unexpectedly appeared. The most convincing statement came from a gentieman who has invested largely in realty in the southeastern part of the city and the districts adjoining. It seems he lost a sale of many thousands of deliars because of errors in the title which the abstract and attorney's opinion failed to disclose. The errors so far as the facts brought out by the disthe title which the abstract and attorneys opinion falled to disclose. The errors could easily have been remedied if they had been pointed out to him at the time he purchased. "Twenty thousand dollars," said he, "in these hard times would have been a great boon to me. As it was I lost the sale, because my intending purchaser must have an insurance policy, "It has taught me a lesson," said he with a solemn cast of countenance, "and hereafter, gentiemen, insure." The abstract system had really only one defender, and his arguments were brussed aside by the experience of those present, who sadily admitted they had lost money and time by buying on abstracts, and attrorneys opinions. One amusing case was recited of a man who purchased a piece of ground in the Eighth ward. The abstract was referred to an attorney, and the title approved. Some time after, it was discovered that a mortgage on the property which was endorsed on the abstract was referred to an attorney, and the title approved.
